Revival Services.

The special revival services commenced at the Baptist church Sunday the 17th are now being conducted under a tent at Johnson and Fifth streets where each evening a large attendance enjoy the discourses conducted by the pastor Rev. Dr. Alldredge.

Dr. Alldredge is an interesting and concentrated speaker and his sermons are proving of much value to the Christians as well as the unsaved of Amarillo.

At the Sunday evening service the tent was inadequate for the accommodation of his auditors and a large number were forced to stand. His text was taken from John 18:25, "The fall and restoration of Simon Peter." Dr. Alldredge told in the most impressive manner of the unhappy existence of the joyless Christian, his trials and tribulations and finally his appeal to God for the happiness of his former converted life.

He assailed the church member in society and scored the younger members who would be tempted from the church for society.

The special tent services will continue until Sunday at which time announcements as to the continuation of the meetings will be made.

STILL ADVANCING.

High Price of Building Material
Due to Shortage at the Mills.

"The price of lumber, which has advanced about 25 per cent within the past year, has not effected the demand for building material for the erection of houses in Amarillo and the adjacent territory" said a local lumber dealer yesterday.

"There are five yards in Amarillo and from all accounts all are doing a satisfactory business, at any rate they are putting out the lumber which shows that the town is rapidly increasing in population and experiencing a good healthy growth."

"Our main trouble is in getting lumber from the mills. A great many people think that the retail lumber men are reaping a harvest on account of the high prices in lumber, but the retail men do not think so. It is the mill man who is being lulled into a peaceful state of mind by the hum of the gang saws. They are the ones who are profiting in the increase in the price of lumber. The retail men are not making as big a percentage in their sales as they were when lumber was low."

Naturally the retail price of lumber follows the quotations sent out by the mills, but we are unable to follow the markets set by the manufacturers as closely as some people would think. A couple of years ago we dodged the lumber salesman like some people do the tax collector, but now we are almost compelled to hunt him up with a bloodhound, and with all that we cannot get our orders filled.

"According to reliable information the shipments of lumber from Texas and Louisiana during the month of August approximated 22,000,000 feet. You cannot pick up a lumber paper that does not tell of the scarcity of offerings and the quick way in which the lumber that is offered is bought up. The scarcity of yellow pine and the demand has made itself felt on the Pacific coast and from that section comes the report of light offerings and strong demand."

"Just when the demand will debate and prices re-act no one can foretell. Just how high it will go is another problem that would be difficult to figure out. The manufacturers say that it never will go down, and from the way quotations come to us and the hard time we have in getting enough lumber to keep our stock up, it looks like the mill man is about right when he says that the dawn of the end is not yet in sight."

Large Acreage of Wheat.

M. M. Jones of Higgins, Texas, was among the arrivals at the yards today with four carloads of mixed cattle. Mr. Jones is one of the prominent cowmen of Lipscomb county, where he owns a four-section stock farm. "That part of the Panhandle country never looked better at this season of the year than it does now," said Mr. Jones. "In fact that country at the present time looks like it generally does along about the first of June after good spring rains. There is grass everywhere, and stock is in fine condition. We have had rains all along, and right up to the present time, which have soaked the ground and put things in fine shape. We raised good crops this year, and all over that country a large acreage of wheat will be put in this fall. The rains have put the ground in good condition for sowing wheat. The crops of all kinds this year were good, and with a large acreage of wheat sown this fall the stockmen will have fine wheat pasture all winter for stock. The rough feed crop of this year will also make fine winter forage for stock, so that the cowmen will be in good shape for the winter."—Kansas City Drovers Journal.

Hollands For October.

The October number of Holland's Magazine comes with a splendid array of good things for home readers. The cover for the month is a study in grapes artistically done by Mrs. S. E. Buchanan, who also contributes an article, "The fruit of the Vine," for this number.

Gilson Willets spent several years traveling in Europe and Asia as the special representative of Collier's and other periodicals. He has written a series of articles for Holland's Magazine, describing in detail some of the customs and methods of living in foreign lands. The first of these articles, which appears in the October issue, is entitled "How They do Things in Russia," and the numerous illustrations are made from photographs taken by Mr. Willets while in the Empire of the Czar.

THE STATE OF TEXAS, to the Sheriff or any Constable of Potter county greeting: You are hereby commanded to make service, by publication in a newspaper for thirty days of the following notice, in words and figures as follows, to wit:

Frank K. Moody vs. W. H. Sawvel, No. 615, suit pending in the District Court of Potter County, Texas.

To all persons interested in the above entitled suit:

Notice is hereby given that Frank K. Moody, plaintiff, has filed interrogatories in a certain suit pending in the District Court of Potter County, Texas, wherein Frank K. Moody is plaintiff and W. H. Sawvel is defendant, No. 615, to Frank K. Moody, who resides in Cook County, Illinois, the answer to which will be read in evidence on the trial of said cause; and has also filed an affidavit in said suit that W. H. Sawvel, defendant, is without the limits of the State of Texas, and not within the jurisdiction of this court and that said defendant has no attorney of record; and that a commission will issue on or after the thirtieth day after the publication of this notice, to take the deposition of said witness.

And of this precept and how you have executed the same, make due returns.

Given under my hand and the seal of said court, at office in Amarillo, Texas, this 21st day of September, A. D. 1905.

blooming," by Wm. Lomas, is a special feature for the month, and the article is superbly illustrated. Among the other special articles, F. P. Holland has a hunting sketch dealing with game on the Texas coast; and Frank H. Sweet tells how smelt are caught on the coast of Maine. In "Publicity Without Profit," Hester Grey deals with a subject of particular interest to merchants and their employees, and many shoppers will recall experiences similar to those related.

The stories for October include "Shellbark Williams' Reformation," by Will Deming Bornaday; "Jumping Another's Claim," by Anna M. Dixon; "An Echo of the Recirculations," by Mrs. Lawrence Lewis; "A Halloween Bride," by Nellie Gravey Gillmore; "The Fatal Five Cent Piece," by John P. Cuckes; "The Reign of Marion," by Mary Lewis; "The Fairy of Phooka Spring," by Harrietta M. Collins, and a number of others.

There are numerous Halloween suggestions, and the fashion, fancy work and kitchen departments are full of helpful hints.

Holland's Magazine, published at Dallas, Texas, is rapidly taking a high place in magazines as the most fitting Southern representative of Magazine literature.
